Welcome to the zoo! We are so glad you are here.

The California Living Museum—CALM—is California's premier native zoo and gardens focusing on California native species. A visit to CALM will take you through different animal exhibits and plant communities to give you an encapsulated glimpse of the diversity in our golden state. Many of the 200+ animals living at CALM are non-releasable; that is, they cannot live in the wild. Some animals have physical disabilities, others have become dependent upon people for their care. At CALM they have a secure home and purpose: to educate people about the wonderful wildlife around them.
